

October 28, 2016 will be a day that one survivor of domestic abuse will never forget. This amazing survivor will be picked up in a Maserati from her home. She has no clue that her friend nominated her to receive a day of pampering. The woman selected has survived being shot by her abuser and survived to tell her story. It's time that we show her how much she is loved and cared for. Friday will be all about her and making her feel like the queen she is.

Once she arrives at the Sheraton hotel downtown she will walk into a room that will make her feel like she is in Paris. The room will be filled with affirmations, beautiful rose petals and much more. After that she will then get a full body massage by a licensed massage therapist. That's not it, she will get a custom made outfit and get all dolled up by a team of makeup artists and hairstylist. Just when she thought it was over is when we give her own photo-shoot and after that is when we end the night with room service of her choice and let her rest for the entire night and allow her to take it all in and remember how beautiful she is and no one can ever take that away from her.
